ADJ'T & INSP'R GENERAL'S OFFICE, RICHMOND, VA., March 28, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 14.

I. The following act of Congress and regulations are published for the information and direction of all concerned:

AN ACT to increase the military force of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That, in order to provide additional forces to repel invasion, maintain the rightful possession of the Confederate States, secure their independence and preserve their institutions, the President be, and he is hereby, authorized to ask for and accept from the owners of slaves the services of such number of able-bodied negro men as he may deem expedient, for and during the war, to perform military service in whatever capacity he may direct.

Sec. 2. That the General-in-Chief be authorized to organize the said slaves into companies, battalions, regiments and brigades, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe, and to be commanded by such officers as the President may appoint.

Sec. 3. That while employed in the service, the said troops shall receive the same rations, clothing and compensation as are allowed to other troops in the same branch of the service.

Sec. 4. That if, under the previous sections of this act, the President shall not be able to raise a sufficient number of troops to prosecute the war successfully, and maintain the sovereignty of the States and the independence of the Confederate States, then he is hereby authorized to call on each State, whenever he thinks it expedient, for her quota of one hundred thousand troops, in addition to those subject to military service under existing laws, or so many thereof as the President may deem necessary, to be raised from such classes of population, irrespective of color, in each State, as the proper authorities thereof may determine: Provided, That not more than twenty-five per cent. of the male slaves between the ages of eighteen and forty five, in any State, shall be called for under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. That nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize a change in the relation which the said slaves shall bear towards their owners except by consent of the owners and of the States in which they may reside, and in pursuance of the laws thereof.

Approved, March 13th, 1865.

II. The recruiting service under this act will be conducted under the supervision of the Adjutant and Inspector General, according to the regulations for the recruiting service of the regular army, in so far as they are applicable and except when special directions may be given by the War Department.

III. There will be assigned or appointed for each State, an officer who will be charged with the collection, enrollment and disposition of all the recruits that may be obtained under the first section of this act. One or each State and announced in orders, and a suitable number of officers will be detailed for duty in the Staff Departments at the depots. There will be assigned at each general depot a Quartermaster, Commissary and Surgeon, and the headquarters of the Superintendent will be at the principal depot in the State. The proper officers to aid the Superintendent in enlisting, mustering and organizing the recruits will be assigned by orders from this office or by the General-in-Chief.

IV. The enlistment of colored persons under this act will be made upon printed forms, to be furnished for the purpose, similar to those established for the regular service.—They will be executed in duplicate, one copy to be returned to this office for file. No slave will be accepted as a recruit unless with his own consent and with the approbation of his master by a written instrument conferring, as far as he may, the rights of a freed man, and which shall be filed with the Superintendent. The enlistments will be made for the war, and the effect of the enlistment will be to place the slaves in the military service conformably to this act. The recruits will be organized at the camps in squads and companies, and will be subject to the orders of the General-in-Chief under the second section of this act.

V. The Superintendent in each State will cause a report to be made on the first Monday of every month, the number of recruits at the various depots in the State; the number that have been sent away, and the destination of each. His report will show the names of all the slaves recruited, with their age, description and the names of their masters. One copy will be sent to the General-in-Chief, and one to the Adjutant and Inspector General.

VI. The appointment of officers to the companies to be formed of the recruits aforesaid, will be made by the President.

VII. To facilitate the raising of volunteer companies, officers recruiting therefor are authorized to muster their men into service as enrolled. As soon as enrolled and mustered, the men will be sent, with descriptive lists, to the depots of rendezvous, at which they will be instructed until assigned for service in the field. When the organization of any company remains incomplete at the expiration of the time specified for its organization, the companies or detachments already mustered into service will be assigned to other organizations at the direction of the General-in-Chief.

VIII. It is not the intention of the President to grant any authority for raising regiments or brigades. The only organizations, to be perfected at the depots or camps of instruction, are those of companies, and in exceptional cases, where the slaves are of one estate, of battalions consisting of four companies, and the only authorities to be issued will be for the raising of companies or the aforesaid special battalions of four companies. All large organizations will be left for further action as experience may determine.

IX. All officers who may be employed in the recruiting service, under the provisions of this act, or who may be appointed to the command of the troops raised under it, or who may hold any staff appointment in connection with them, are enjoined to a provident, considerate and humane attention to whatever concerns the health, comfort, instruction and discipline of these troops, and to the uniform observance of kindness, forbearance and indulgence in their treatment of them, and especially that they will protect them from injustice and oppression.

By order.

Circular Address to the Ministers of the Gospel of Rowan Co.

REVEREND SIRS:

As Chairman of an adjourned meeting of the citizens of Rowan on the subject of raising supplies for the army, I take the liberty of addressing you and of asking you to use your influence with your several congregations towards forwarding the purpose in view. In consequence of the temporary destruction of parts of the rail-roads South of us, a present and very urgent demand falls upon the citizens of North Carolina. The army must be fed, and for a while, at least, by the citizens of Virginia and North Carolina. If we do not feed them we cannot expect to keep them between us and danger. They will have either to break off into guerrilla parties or march off to where provisions are plenty. In either of these cases we are exposed to ruin. So soon as it ever happens that the protecting forces of Generals Lee and Johnston are removed from before us, Sherman and Grant will send their raiding parties to bestow their attentions on us of the interior, and then we shall know something of the horrors of war. If we wish to pitch our crops, or to reap in peace what is now in the ground, we must keep the invader as far from us as possible. I trust from all I can learn from the situation of our armies, that they can be kept back. I believe that the last great battle that will signalize these times is about to be fought, and that the tide of victory is about to set in strong on our side. But we must feed the men that we look to for victory. If we cannot give of our abundance, let us, like the poor woman in the Scripture, cast in our mite. And is it not a pious duty to which we invoke you?—your churches are in danger of desecration and sacrilege. Your congregations are in danger of spoilation, insult and impoverishment. Why may not I ask you by all means in your power to strive to keep off these great evils!

You will see in the Watchman of the 22d instant, an outline of the plan proposed for raising supplies. Committees have been appointed for every Captain's district in the county and places appointed for the reception of donations or loans. Salisbury, China Grove, Gold-Hill and Third Creek Station, are the chief places for the deposit of supplies. Officers at those places will act under Major A. Myers, the Commissary of this post, and will acknowledge the receipt of such things as are brought forward. So you may be fully assured that whatever may be given by your congregations will be well and faithfully applied.

Very truly yours, &c.,
H. C. JONES, Sen'r.,
Chairman.

DAILY CONFEDERATE.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1865.

The Situation.

When the military movements were going on, and the battles were being fought, not far distant, we confined ourselves to the most meager accounts, aveiding the mention of localities, and anything which might communicate to the enemy, information which it was desirable to conceal. We have been, however, none the gainer by our reticence, for some of our cotemporaries, not being so thoughtful, gave dates and localities, and the name of the conflicting forces; and we see by the Richmond papers that these detailed accounts are given to the public, and we are put in the attitude of having been very ignorant of what was going on around us.

We presume that now, since Sherman has made his junction, and is in position to communicate daily with Grant, that there is no longer reason why we should keep our mouth so tight shut. We may, therefore, so far open it as to say that Sherman's army rests at Goldsboro', where he is said to be shoeing, clothing and otherwise preparing for an onward move in some direction. Where Gen'l Johnston is, it is not necessary to mention, but of course the time gained by Sherman will not be lost by him. His army will recruit finely, and its daily increase will enable him, when he strikes Sherman another blow, to make the "rout" more complete. There is open country where the "wood is not so dense" as at Bentonsville, that Sherman has to pass through, before he gets to where he wants to go.

Colored Troops.

The law for the enlistment of colored troops is now published. It is a matter of vast importance, and it is to be hoped that, however men may have differed as to the policy of the law, now that it is the law, all persons will unite to facilitate its execution. North Carolina ought to furnish of these troops, in thirty days, fifteen thousand. The regulations from the office of the Secretary of War, we publish to-day.

It will be seen that no recruit will be received, except with his own full consent.

That the consent of his master must also be given, not only to his recruiting, but also to his being a free man, as far as the master can give his consent. No organizations of Regiments or Brigades of colored troops will be received at present, but authority will be given for the recruitment of companies. Here, then, is a fair opportunity for the masters of slaves to devote them, as they have devoted their children, to the service of the country.

Here is a glorious chance for faithful and brave negroes to earn their freedom and a home.

We trust that the deep importance of this given to Gen'l Lee's appeal. We can readily raise one hundred thousand colored troops.—We will soon have forty thousand of our prisoners, and we hope that the successes which we have just had, and the improved tone of public confidence, will induce absentees to return to their duty. If we do our duty, this war will be closed before November, and we shall be an independent people.

"How the Yankee's Treat Union Men."

In Fayetteville the Yankees made no distinction between those who have hugged the delusion of Union, and those who are for independence. They plundered and maltreated both alike. We have this from the most reliable authority, the concurring testimony of several gentlemen.

The result has been that in Fayetteville, as in Columbia and other places marked by their ravages, no unionism is left—all are for war. So would it be here, unless as in Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington, they attempt to occupy. In that event they will favor those who will abandon their allegiance and take the oath; but this is but the web of the spider—the more effectually to secure and hold fast the victims. Alas! for these wretched victims of folly and infatuation. They have sold honor and liberty for the enjoyment of a day's ease. Enjoyment, did we say?—not even that; for there are the goadings of conscience, the sharp stings of remorse, and a day of retribution.

Lying Beyond Stint.

The Yankee papers are seriously reporting, in order to get recruits, that "Jeff. Davis has abdicated in favor of Gen'l Lee," and that the Confederacy "is in the last ditch." The same lying sheets are claiming a "great victory" at Bentonsville, when we have Gen'l Johnston's assurance that Sherman was "routed" and only the "density of the woods" prevented the completion of his overthrow, and this is confirmed by the evident discomfiture which Sherman discloses.

Our Wounded.

We are informed that there are a number of our wounded men and officers in the neighborhood of Averasboro', who are really suffering for attention and nourishment. The inhabitants of that vicinity were plundered to the last extremity, and however well disposed they are to help the suffering soldier, they are without the means. Here is a case for active sympathy and benevolence. Who will step forward to the relief of these poor wounded soldiers? A committee of gentlemen who will procure and undertake the transmission of a few articles of provisions to the point we have designated, will do an act of mercy.

The telegram brings the intelligence of powerful combinations about to or actually moving in aid of Sherman and Grant, by means of which Lee is to be forced out of Richmond. One of these is the force moving from East Tennessee on West Virginia; the other is a force under Stoneman, whose objective point is Salisbury. The campaign of the Yankees, like the campaign of last year, depends upon the successful co-operation of several distinct corps, moving from distant points on given objects. If one fails the whole bottom falls out, and the end is failure.

Now the people of North Carolina, if they will do it, can take care of Stoneman without impairing the strength of General Johnston. If men value their property and home, their lives, their liberties and honor, they can unite in temporary organizations for short service, and thus a force of mounted minute men, capable of easy co-operation, can be made ready to march to the assistance of any threatened point, in time to arrest any raid which Stoneman may project. If the citizens in the Western counties will stir up the public spirit, and volunteer and bushwhack the raiders from the time of their entry into the State and so delay, harrass and cripple them, and the people of the counties will form companies and mount themselves and prepare to go to the assistance of the point assailed, without materially interferring with the industrial pursuits or farming operations, we may keep prepared to resist any raid, and save the State from the loss and devastation which would follow one of these barbarous incursions.

We repeat, if our people determine to do so, we can defeat any raid which Stoneman can send.

The Count de Montholon, who is the newly appointed Minister to the United States, was the late French Minister to Mexico. His sympathies are strongly with us. Nevertheless, he is accredited to Abraham Lincoln as President of the "whole concern." This does away with the delusion of recognition on the 4th of March, by the confinement of Lincoln to the States which voted. Our only chance for recognition now, is from the labors of H. S. Foot, the "peace commissioner of certain weighty and influential persons." If Foot's manifestoes do not worry Europe into our recognition, then the game is up.

In the meantime, we recognise brave armies and accomplished leaders as the best of our "peace negotiators."

TO THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS IN GEN'L JOS. E. JOHNSTON'S ARMY.—The Conservative of yesterday, announces that a regular Post Master has been appointed to service in Gen'l Johnston's army, and that persons writing to their friends in that command, will direct to the Company, Regiment, Brigade, &c., and direct to "JOHNSTON'S ARMY."

The attention of the ladies is respectfully called to the notice for a meeting of the Soldiers' Relief Association.

At a public meeting held in the county of citizens of the county assembled in the court house, when on motion of Q. F. Neal Esq., Jas. P. Waugh was called to the chair, and J. E. Foster, and W. H. Stephens, appointed secretaries.

The object of the meeting was explained by Dr. A. B. Cox, who addressed the assembly in an earnest and eloquent appeal, to discard party dissentions, and remain united in the defence of our liberties, homes and altars; and although the sacrifice may be great, we shall yet see the sun of glory rise on our beloved country, freed from the despot's sway, and tyrant's chains.

Judge Ewell, of Kentucky, being present was called on, who, in a few very well-timed remarks, excused himself from making a speech, as he was a citizen of another State; but with a true Southern soldier's heart, assured the people it afforded him great pleasure to see the zeal they manifested in behalf of their country.

Rev. Wm. Baldwin was also called for, who came forward and asked to be excused from making a speech, but said some encouraging things; insisting that now was the time that every Southern man should be at his post.

The chair then appointed Q. F. Neal, A. B. Cox, and Geo. W. Reeves, a committe to draft resolutions suitable to the occasion, who, after retirement made the following report:

Resolved, That beleiving the cause in which we are engaged to be just, we are determined to stand firm in our country's defence, against its cruel invaders, who are seeking our ruin, by prosecuting an aggresive war, marked by savage ferocity, and disregard to law, both human and divine.

Resolved, That we have an abiding confidence in our Chief Magistrate, President Davis, as a statesman, and patriot, whose distinguished ability in the administration of the government, while passing through an ordeal of fire, may well challenge the admiration of the world.

Resolved, That after having read with delight the proclamation of Gov. Vance, we feel proud that North Carolina has such a man at its Chief Executive, and here renew our pledge to do all in our power to aid him in preserving law and order among our people, and in defending our much exposed part of the State.

Resolved, That we deprecate separate State action, to obtain peace, as being dangerous to our cause in obtaing an honorable and permanent peace, and well calculated to encourage our enemies to continue the prosecution of the war.

Resolved,, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Raleigh Confederate, for publication.

TELEGRAPHIC

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Entered according to act of Congress in the year 1863, by J. S. THRASHER, in the Clerk's office of the District Court of the Confederate States for the Northern District of Georgia.

A Movement in the West.

RICHMOND, March 27.—The Bristol correspondent of the Richmond Whig says that Stoneman was at Mossy Creek on the 18th, with 4000 cavalry, his destination supposed to be Salisbury, North Carolina.

Persons direct from Knoxville report the arrival there, from Chattanooga, during the last night and day, of a large number of troops. North Carolina and Lynchburg seemed to be the theme of conversation among officers and men.

From the Southwest.

AUGUSTA, March 25.—The Yankees burned, destroyed and evacuated Dalton several days ago.

About one thousand of Wofford's cavalry have moved 18 miles above on a tour of observation.

Wofford is supposed to have six thousand in his entire command.

Gen. Taylor has issued an order, that in future the field and line officers of all commands, in his Department, shall be held personally responsible for damages committed by their soldiers, upon public and private property.

Two transports came up Big Black river, nine miles from Canton, Miss., and removed the cotton found on the bank, for government purposes.—Our troops are ordered not to interfere with the movement.

A Yankee force of seven thousand is in the vicinity of Greensboro' and Tupelo, Mississippi, beginning active movements. A strong Yankee force, with a large wagon train, is said to be moving on Columbus, Miss., from Huntsville. Gen'l Lyon's brigade is watching the enemy at Guntown Gen'l Forrest's headquarters are at West Point, Mississippi; he is watching the enemy's movements. Armstrong's Brigade is operating to check the enemy's advance from Saltville. A considerable force of the enemy is reported between Liberty and Clinton—Gen'l Hodge opposing them. Preparations for the defence of Mobile are very complete; provisions for a six months' seige complete.

General Taylor has done everything for the successful defence of the city.

The Yankees who moved out to Gonzales, 15 miles from Pensacola, are water bound.

At a late term, the Grand Jury of Madison co., Georgia, presented Col. Dorraugh and his cavalry command as a nuisance.

The Savannah Republican of the 7th says: Last week the telegraph cable (Yankee) was cut at St. Augustine Creek, by a negro, and much energy is being used to recover the wire.

British subjects at Charleston have had the following order issued to them:

BRITISH CONSULATE, Charleston, S. C., U. S., Feb. 20.

British subjects residents of this place and vicinity are desired to register at this consulate, their names, residences and occupations, at the earliest convenience; those who have already received certificates of nationality, must bring them for inspection; all others must be prepared to exhibit papers, not only of their nationality, but also of neutrality.

AUGUSTA, March 26.—On the 20th of March a number of negroes built a raft on Briar Creek, about one hundred miles below this city, floated it out and attempted to navigate the Savannah river down to reach the Yankees at Savannah. The craft struck a torpedo which blew the raft to pieces, and not one of the party has been heard of since—all lost.

A party of Yankees, reported to be under Grierson, came out from Memphis, through Ripley, Mississippi, one day last week, and made a demonstration against Tupelo. These were met by Chalmer's and a part of Forrest's command and retreated in haste towards Memphis.

Demonstrations against Mobile, and flank movement from Pensacola and Milton still threatened.

OBITUARY.

Died, on the morning of the 22d inst., at his residence, Effinglen Mills, Mecklenburg, Va., ROBERT TURNER HUGHES, of the firm of Wm. B. Hughes & Bro., in the 39th year of his age.

Mr. Hughes was born and raised in Granville co., N. C., and at an early age evinced that active energy and industry, which characterized him through life. When quite young, he commenced the mercantile business, and, after serving with several gentlemen, whose confidence, friendship, and esteem he possessed to the day of his death, he commenced business in company with his brother, Maj. W. B. Hughes, at Townesville, N. C., and, up to the commencement of the war, did a large and profitable business. About that time the firm purchased that valuable property the Effinglen Mills, the deceased becoming the principal manager. With an active energy, untiring industry, being skillful and enterprising, his business perspered, and at the time of his death was rapidly advancing on the road to wealth.

Amiable, kind, and polite, he was approachable to all, looking on you only to smile and with that blandness which is characteristic of childlike simplicity. For a long time he was a member and officer of Townesville Masonic Lodge, and on all occasions in the action of the Lodge on questions of charity and benevolence, went for extending that action to the fullest authority and ability of the Lodge.

It was remarked in the presence of the writer by one of his neighbors, an officer of his county, that while he had known many good and charitable men to die, leaving bright examples, he had never known any man to die who would be more missed than Robert T. Hughes.

Farewell our kind, true and generous friend.—But yesterday we saw thee in all the pride and vigor of manhood. To-day alas, we see thee no more!

In life, for thy many virtues, we respected and loved thee. In death we revere, and will ever cherish thy memory.

Life's labor done securely laid,
In this thy last retreat;
Unheeded, o'er thy silent dust
The storms of life shall beat.

ACTS AND RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT THE SECOND SESSION OF THE SECOND CONGRESS, 1864.

No 71.

AN ACT to increase the efficiency of the cavalry of the Confederate States.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the Secretary of War, upon the application from the General commanding an army in the field with which any regiment, battalion or company of cavalry is serving, is hereby authorized to cause the Quartermaster of the immediate command to take upon his property return, the horses fit for service, ridden by the enlisted men of such commands; and the horses second section of this act have been complied with, become the property of the Confederate States, and shall be branded with the letter of the company, and number and initials of the regiment to which they belong. Company commanders shall receipt to the Quartermaster for horses taken up; and each man shall be allowed to retain, for use in the service, the horse that was in his possession when thus taken up; and at any time that the horses of these men become unfit for service, their places shall be supplied by others to be furnished by the Government; or such men may, by order of the General commanding the army to which they belong, be assigned to companies from their respective States, in some other branch of the service.

Sec. 2. A board of appraisers shall be appointed by the commanding General of the army to which such regiment, battalion or company is attached, which shall appraise the horses thus taken; and shall also distinguish them as belonging to classes one, two, three and four, according to quality, and the owner of the horse shall make his election to receive at once from the Quartermaster of his command, the appraised value of his horse, or a certificate for a horse of the class to which his belong, to be furnished him by the Government of the Confederate States, six months after the ratification of a treaty of peace with the United States; which certificate shall be approved by the commander of the brigade to which the man belongs.

Sec. 3. When any enlisted man serving in cavalry becomes dismounted, and is unable to remount himself, upon the certificate of his immediate commander, approved by his brigade and army commander, that he has been a gallant and faithful soldier, and takes proper care of his horse, the quartermaster of his immediate command shall furnish him with a government horse, suitable for cavalry service, for which his company commander shall receipt.

Sec. 4. The Secretary of War shall cause the Quartermaster General to make immediate arrangements for procuring horses, suitable for cavalry, in sufficient numbers to supply, from time to time, the requirements of the service under this law. He shall also adopt such regulations for recruiting cavalry horses, the property of the government, and of cavalrymen who have not the facilities for recruiting their own horses, as he may deem proper.

Sec. 5. When any cavalryman fails to take proper care of his horse straggles or absents himself from his command without leave, or commits any wanton insult or injury to the person or property of any loyal citizen of the Confederate States, or otherwise shows himself unfit for the cavalry service, his brigade or other commander shall report the fact to the General commanding the army to which he belongs, who shall assign him to some company, from his State, of some other arm of the service; and any brigade or other commander having knowledge of such fact and shall fail to report the fact to the General commanding the army, shall, upon trial and conviction thereof by a court martial or military court, be cashiered and put in the infantry ranks.

Sec. 6. Any cavalry officer of the Confederate States service, who shall fail to exact from the men under his command, proper care of their horses, or shall permit pillaging, marauding or forcible exchange of horses by men under his command, or shall fail in any other respect to preserve proper discipline and efficiency in his command, shall, upon proof of the facts, certified to by the brigade and division commanders to which he belongs, be, by order of the Commanding General, suspended from command, and upon conviction before a court martial, be dropped from the rolls and conscribed in the ranks.

Sec. 7. The Secretary of War, under the direction of the President, shall, immediately upon the passage of this act, cause steps to be taken to ensure the importation of a full and regular supply of cavalry arms of the most approved patterns, and of such ammunition therefor as cannot be manufactured in the Confederate States; and of such amount of cavalry equipments as he may deem necessary.

Sec. 8. The Secretary of War, under the direction of the President, shall cause to be procured and issued to cavalry officers, under such regulations as he may prescribe, the most approved work on cavalry tactics that can be obtained.

Approved February 28, 1865.
